

Climate Action network Europe is looking for a Coal Policy Officer

Climate Action Network Europe, Europe's largest coalition working on climate and energy issues, is currently seeking a highly motivated and dynamic Coal Policy Officer to support the work of our Coal Policy Coordinator and our Energy Transition team in coal regions, with a special focus on multi-stakeholder cooperation in CEE region.

Required qualifications:

- Relevant education, training or experience (Law, Environment, Energy, Social or Political Science, Engineering)
- Research and scoping skills
- Good organisational skills
- A good team player with effective communication skills, flexibility, and reliability
- Willingness to travel within Europe
- Solid understanding of working within a multi-cultural international team and network
- Management of multiple tasks
- Computer skills (Microsoft office, google tools)
- Fluent written and spoken English

Preferred/desirable qualifications:

- Relevant professional or voluntary experience within National, European or International NGOs
- Experience in policy advocacy and campaigning
- Knowledge on climate policies, energy issues or EU policies will be an asset

We offer:

- Unique insight into the EU policy making and real influence in moving Europe beyond coal.
- Experience in working in an international environment
- Competitive salary within the sector
- Flexible working hours
- Compensation for communications and public transport costs.

This position is based within Central Eastern Europe. S/He can work from home, or an office space at one of our member organization can be discussed. S/he will regularly travel to the CAN Europe office in Brussels (Belgium). This position is based on an open-ended contract (100% or 80% work time).
